

“I’m so thankful that the General Conference gave me the chance to make The Record Keeper. I’ve learned so much about how to capture the attention of, and then engage in meaningful spiritual conversations with, secular audiences. The lessons learned from The Record Keeper experience have equipped me to achieve the mission that

God challenged me with in childhood:

To share God’s truth with unchurched people through mainstream entertainment.”

– Jason Satterlund

While we still have their attention, let's work together to reach The Record Keeper fanbase through a new project. The Planet Tender follows angelic planetary caretaker Azzah as he is drafted into the battle of good versus evil. Assigned to guard over a human of questionable character, Azzah remains faithful to his duties while struggling to understand why his charge deserves protection. The Planet Tender explores the universal story of moral conflict, and the battles waged to care for us, even when we don't believe. The Planet Tender will be a feature-length film that will stand as the first of many movies exploring God's campaign to triumph over evil as played out in the angelic realm.

Even without advertising, The Record Keeper reached a lot of people. Working together, we can continue speaking to this audience.

Dream Cast

Audiences really appreciated the ethnic and cultural variety in The Record Keeper. I'd love to continue that tradition, and expand on it, in The Planet Tender, and make it an international collaboration with actors from America, the Philippines, India, Brasil, and beyond. Some actors I'd love to cast in The Planet Tender are Michael Ealy (American), Jericho Rosales (Filipino), and Aishwarya Rai Bachchan. Each of these actors are successful and respected performers in their home countries.

The Two-Pronged Goal

With actors such as those mentioned above, we would not only get high-caliber performances, we would also create something with global appeal, enabling us to reach more souls and recoup the production costs. I'm striving to build a team to work with me to achieve two objectives: sharing the message with as many people as possible AND making a profit so that we can continue producing similar ministry materials. Not only are secular audiences intrigued by spiritual themes, but Christian audiences appreciate the opportunity to see characters they relate to on the big screen. People are watching Christian films. Let's leverage this opportunity together.

The Next Steps

I'm working as hard as I can to make this happen, but I don't have the resources to do it alone. Right now, I'm in Phase 1 - raising seed money. I'm seeking $150,000.00 to cover the pre-production costs such as creating a business plan, setting up an LLC, developing the story, and writing the script.

In Phase 2, I'll be raising money to produce The Planet Tender via private investments and crowd-funding. To produce The Planet Tender, I'm seeking $1,500,000.00.

Beyond Phase 2 is the over-arching goal of cultivating a loyal audience by creating multiple films; this is the best way to grow the ministry, and it's a safer investment because the funds are spread across multiple projects. The grand vision includes a trilogy of feature films, followed by the development of a serial drama that brings to life the entire Conflict of the Ages series. The projected cost for this endeavor is $20,000,000.00.
