Get Your Ticket Dismissed With Our Coral Springs Traffic School

Nobody wants to receive a traffic ticket. Not only can they become costly quickly, but you may have points added to your license as well. Thankfully, by Florida law, you are given three options to deal with it, pay it, fight it, or attend a defensive driving course to lessen the citation's severity. You will need permission to do so, which can be requested through various means.

You may request consent by mail, in person, or by filling out the back of your citation.

Registering with DriveSafeToday's online defensive driving course is simple after receiving permission from courts. Keep in mind that the course must be completed within a time frame allowed by courts, usually within 90 days. That said, you are free to finish it at your own pace during that window. After completing the course, we will automatically notify the DHSMV you've finished and issue you a certificate of completion.
