Celebration of Sundance Film Festival: London

The Sundance Film Festival: London was sadly not able to grace Picturehouse Central with its usual film fabulousness, for what would have been its fifth year, due to the pandemic.

However, we are thrilled to announce that we are bringing some of the best films and events from the 2020 Sundance Film Festival into living rooms around the UK via the Sundance website.

Each film will receive its UK premiere at the digital festival and will include an introduction and a live Q&A with the filmmakers. Alongside the feature films, there's also a collection of short films from the Utah festival, and two panel discussions with special guests.

This new digital Celebration of Sundance Film Festival: London will take place online from 7 - 9 August 2020 and passes are on sale now!
