

Why Avista Adventist Hospital?

When fibroid tumors forced marathoner Donna Davis to stop running, she turned to Avista Adventist Hospital – one of only three hospitals in Colorado to earn the designation as a Center of Excellence in Minimally Invasive Gynecology - for a less invasive hysterectomy.

“I went home the day after surgery and back to work part time at three weeks”

“At eight weeks, I had a follow-up visit, and that’s when I started to run again. It’s the best of both worlds. I’m not in menopause and I’m not having periods. I feel so much better.”
