

Bunbury & Associates Realtors Best Places to Work 2017

ALL IN THE FAMILY

At Bunbury and Associates Realtors, employees are part of the family.

Tom Bunbury started the company 40 years ago with the core principals of hard work and honesty.

“We have an extremely good reputation for how we handle people and how we do a deal,” he said.

Today, Bunbury’s five daughters and two son-in-laws are involved in the company, which has 85 agents and 10 full-time employees in eight locations throughout South Central Wisconsin.

The family-like atmosphere contributes to the company’s designation as a Best Places to Work for 2017.

“Once we have an employee, we want them to stay with us. They become an important part of the program so we don’t want them to walk away,” Bunbury said.

Employees have a good working relationship with the agents, he said.

“We want people who love to be here, so we focus on creating that culture,” said Erik Sjowall, president and Bunbury’s son-in-law.
