make a Splash

Want to wear makeup while you swim? You can. The key is to go light and sheer, and to make wise, waterproof choices.

Base Instinct

Forget about applying a full face of makeup; it's just going to melt almost instantly. If you really can't go without coverage, spot-correct using a concealer with a slightly dry, tacky feel—like a stick, or one that comes in a pot—as this stays put longer than liquid ones. For an even finish, mix a bit of your foundation with your sunscreen, and apply all over the face. Also an option: a sunscreen and foundation hybrid, like Shiseido Sun Protection Liquid Foundation SPF 42, P1,750, Shiseido, Greenbelt 5 1/L. “Just choose a formula that is waterproof,” says makeup artist Muriel Vega Perez.

Punch of Color

Pale or bluish lips don't look great in real life or in photos, so make sure you swipe on a rosy hue that won't disappear as you go underwater. Your best and most natural-looking option? "A liquid tint or stain with a berry tone," says Perez. The pigments in liquid tints sink into the lip's surface faster than creams, allowing color to stay on longer. If you must use a lip balm, apply it over your stain, not under, as the excess moisture can cause your product to slide off more easily.

Summer Smolder

Sport a sexy stare with this summery take on the smoky eye look: Smudge a bronzy cream eye shadow over your lids, dabbing a little on the inner corner of your eyes as well. Curl your lashes, and apply a coat of waterproof mascara, like the heavy-duty Make Up For Ever Aqua Smoky Lash, P1,650, Make Up For Ever, Mega Fashion Hall, SM Megamall 2/L. For the brows, skip the wax and go for a waterproof liquid or pencil type, or simply set with a brow gel.

All-Day Contour

Look gorgeously flushed with the help of a little iridescent blush and bronzer on your cheeks, which also double as face slimmers. Try 1 Cargo Cosmetics' Swimmables Water Resistant Bronzer, P1,250, Beauty Bar, a powder formula (yes, powder!) that's impressively water-resistant. Also perfect for a natural, sun-kissed glow: 2 Revlon Insta-Blush in Candy Kiss, P575, The SM Store, a sheer, blendable stick with mica-coated pigments to diffuse light, making skin look extra vibrant.
