CUPRA Instagram Story

This Insta story for the CUPRA race car incorporates sound*, video, and inspirational copy to draw in the user and encourage them to tap through the article to the “Read More” call-to-action on the final screen.

*In the first screen, the user hears loud construction noises from the manufacturing. This contrasts against the video of the first run, in which the fully electric engine cruises around the track silently.

Facebook posts encourage the user to view the attached video or link through a direct call-to-action or inspirational introduction that toes the line between corporate and casual.
