

You know that writing is pretty much a solo gig, but pros don't go at it alone.

At some point you want to know what others think.

That's where we come in.

We call ourselves BOOMers, because we think it sounds a bit cooler than "critiquers". For the most part, we're just like you. We read, we write, we eat, sleep and repeat. What really excites us is reading your work and helping you to make it the best it can be.

We came up with BOOM Critique after hearing so many writers complain about the time it takes to hear back from well intentioned family and friends (who probably didn't want to read your work in the first place) or snails paced critique groups.

As much as we love to read and help writers, Renee, our head BOOMer-in-Charge had a hard time keeping up with the demands of offering critiques for full length books. Besides, only accepting short fiction and non-fiction is a much more affordable option for writers.

So we decided to offer writing feedback for short works - 40 pages or less- and thus BOOM Critique was born!

We know how powerful words can be and we absolutely love helping writers like you squeeze the best writerly juices from your writing.

We love editors, but we're not editors. While we do have one editor on our team, for now she's BOOMing just like this.

We're here to be your readers before you seek out a proofreader. We're aware that editors come in many forms and do more than proofread. But we also understand that the average self-published writer is on a budget and probably can't afford expensive developmental editing.

So we're proud to be the happy medium between your free beta readers and your final edit.

Who we're for:

Writers who are looking to improve their work

Writers who are looking for honest, thorough feedback of their writing

Those that are not sure if they are writers or not, but are open to constructive feedback (and by the way, yes, you're a writer too)

Who we're not for:

If you're not ready to have honest feedback on your writing should not submit to us.

We work hard to be sensitive to your work, but our job is to be honest and provide the feedback to make your writing even better.

If you only want praise, then you're not ready to submit. No hard feelings either way.

How We Work

We believe in simplicity, so we created this quick three step process to get you started.

Step 1: Fill out our Getting Started form, to you know...get started.

Step 2: After you receive your confirmation email with your invoice, simply attach your Word doc (or copy & paste your text into the email) to be critiqued.

Step 3: Pat yourself on the back, and wait to be BOOMED (aka sit back, relax and await your completed critique).

See? Simple.

Ready? Set. BOOM. (Get started now) ►

WHO WE ARE

We're a small group of writers, editors (no we're not editing here, but it helps), and readers. Some of us have been published traditionally, some are self-published, and a few of us have backgrounds in non-writing industries (such as tech).

What we have in common is our love for words...and writers.

But it's not about us, it's about you.

So for now, this little laptop image will represent us as a small group of critiquing ninjas who are eager to serve you...and most importantly, your words.
