A simple bed sheet can transform the look and feel of your bedroom and give it the vibe you want. It can tone down the colours, match your décor and even brighten up the room. ### Choosing the best bedsheets for your home

Functional, stylish and comfortable, bed sheets must be well suited to your bed as well as to your body. A rough bed sheet may make you toss and turn all night, and some bedsheets may look great on display, but seem like a disaster when you cover your bed with it.

Here are a few bed sheet types that you can buy for a restful sleep at night:

1. Cotton Bed Sheets

Cotton bedsheets are excellent choices for the summer months. They are soft and breathe easily, and can be ironed to provide a neat look for your room. A cotton bed sheet tends to last for years, making it a great investment. The thread count in cotton bed sheets is approximately 400-600. The higher the thread count, the softer the feel.

2. Linen Bed Sheet

Linen bed sheets are soft and hence have the effect of a light massage while you sleep. Bed linen is a breathable fabric that helps you keep cool in the summer, and warm during the winters. For a sustainable choice that is good for the environment, opt for linen bed sheets. They are antibacterial, and the feel of the fabric promotes blood flow throughout your body.

Buy Pillow Covers Online from Your Favorite Shopping Site:

Shopping for your home is fun and confusing at the same time. While on one hand, you are delighted to see the amount of variety that's available, on the other hand, you are confused about what kind of decor would suit your home and its style. Our friend, Janet is facing a dilemma over picking the right pillow covers for her studio apartment. She wants to stock a good amount of colorful and monochrome pieces and therefore, has decided to buy pillow covers online. Brands such as Chumbak, Ans, Avira Home, IWS, and Home Elite sell a wide range of covers that are delightful to look at. So let us help Janet pick some pillow covers to make her house into a cozy space, what say?

Pillow Covers - Material Matters:

Pillow covers are made from a wide range of materials. From the basic cotton ones you see at handloom exhibitions to the silky ones, the choices are aplenty. Now, coming back to Janet, she is looking for something that has a sophisticated touch to its design. While, she already has a large collection of cotton cushions, pillows & covers, she wants something more elaborate for her bedroom. She is more inclined towards the pillow covers that are made from art silk, dupion silk, and brocade. They are either plain or have subtle elements of embroidery. Janet decided to go ahead with the plain ones made from silk as they had a charm of their own and seemed to go well with almost all other colors.

Patterns of the Pillow Covers:

Now that Janet had chosen the material of her pillow covers, her next task was to pick from the various designs that were available. From animal prints to checkered patterns, there were umpteen choices for Janet to choose from. She decided to choose pillow covers based on the types of bed sheets she had back at home. So for the plain bedsheets, she decided to opt for pillow covers that had elaborate patterns on them. Janet had a weakness for Indian prints and the minute she laid her eyes on an elaborate pillow cover with the pattern of a peacock, she knew she was going to buy it. Similarly, she came across various other covers that had patterns of different animals. The next set of pillow covers that caught her eyes was the one with checkered patterns. Simple yet classy, the range of checkered pillow covers is a definite must-have for all homes, irrespective of the decor.

Pillow Covers - Create a Riot of Colors at Home:

You can make your bed look more colorful by placing pillows designed with a riot of colors. This was Janet's intention as she felt that her bedroom needed a myriad of colors. Some of the popular colors that pillow covers come in include blue, orange, yellow, red, and green. You can also opt for pillow covers with abstract patterns formed from the combination of these colors. Now, that you have helped Janet pick some beautiful pillow covers, are you ready buy some for your room too?

Wrapping ourselves in a fluffy bath towel after taking a warm shower is such a pleasant experience. Although it seems insignificant, the warm and cozy feeling can set a positive tone to kickstart your day. If you are planning to purchase one and are confused with the countless options available online, we have some pointers chalked out for you. You need bath towels to dry yourself after a shower. It is the little things that matter - wrapping yourself in a really soft bath towel is a feeling that is so understated, especially after that long warm bath. ## Do You Need Bath Towels:

The need for a bath towel is obvious. Be it for wiping your face dry or drying your body after a bath, bath towels are a necessity in every household. While buying a bath towel, consider its absorbing capacity. If the bath towel is not absorbent enough, then the water from your body might be dripping onto the floor, making it wet. You'd then have to wipe the floor after your bath - a task that you wouldn't want to do after an exhausting day at work. If there is water on the floor, you could even be at a risk of slipping and hurting yourself.

In your home, you know where your towels are kept. But if you have guests coming over to your house, they might be unaware of where you'd keep your towels. Most guests would want to use the washroom. They'd probably wash their faces or hands, and they would need something to dry their faces or hands with. Giving them tissues for this reason, might seem like a bad move and they could judge you for your courtesies. You could prepare yourself for such situations and get hand towels. You could keep these hand towels in the bathroom so that your guests can have easy access to it and they don't have to come to you asking for towels and napkins. Buy bath and hand towels online from brands Swiss Republic, HomeStrap, SPACES, Cotton Colors and much more.

Swaddling babies in adult-sized towels can become a hassle as you'd have to fold the towel multiple times. You could buy baby bath towels online from brands Cotton Colors and Brandonn. These towels come in a size that is perfect for your baby. You can tuck your baby in the towel after giving him/her a bath. These towels are made from soft materials that are delicate on your baby's tender skin.

Where To Buy the Best Bath Towels From:

Instead of shopping for towels individually - one by one - you can buy them in sets. Some bath towel sets feature not just bath towels, but also hand towels. You could also buy bath towel sets which come with towels of the same size and color. These sets are cost-effective than buying towels individually. Moreover, you could change your towels everyday and take a step forward towards better hygiene. You can explore home furnishings online on popular shopping sites that feature top-selling brands, such as Story@Home, Bombay Dyeing, SPACES, Raymond Home, Cotton Colors and much more.
