

We see potential.

Once your child loves to learn, the educational journey is a joy. Good study habits, an interest in reading, and a love for solving problems can all be developed at an early age. MCDS teachers recognize that every child has an extraordinary capacity to learn, and they understand why nurturing enthusiasm for school early can be key to your child's success in later years.

MCDS provides a world-class academic foundation, including dedication to whole child education with specialized teachers for science, Spanish, physical education, music, and art to unlock your child's potential. Semi-private piano lessons begin for each child at grade one.
