

5 Best Convertible Car Seat – Top picks and Reviews for 2017

Convertible car seats can save you quite a bit of money and time if you don't mind giving up the infant seat carrier-which is a small sacrifice when compared to all the benefits. These top picks for 2017 are the best convertible car seats because they all offer three important components that you need to make sure are part of your purchase when you make that final decision. Your investment should cover your child's needs for about 6 to 10 years from the purchase date. Sounds great! Right!

Besides top of the line safety these are three components you want to look for in a convertible car seat.

- Shoulder straps that will not need rethreading for adjustment.
- Reclining positions that accommodate your infant if you will be using as a first and only car seat.
- Get a seat with a wide weight range to accommodate your child as they grow.

The following convertible car seats have all these components – plus, top of the line features that will cradle your baby in safety and comfort from infancy all the way through to school age.

Chicco Nextfit Convertible Carseat, Purple

Chicco Nextfit continues to hold a top spot in an updated Consumer search report as one of the easiest-to-install convertible car seats.

Nextfit is the only convertible car seat with the feature of 9 reclining positions. This 9-position leveling system eliminates the limitations of vehicle matches and simply allows the Chicco Nextfit to fit into a wide variety of vehicles. Just another way to make family life simpler.

The RideRight Dual Level Indicators feature two bubble levels which show the proper seat angle for both modes of your convertible car seat. The bubble levels assure appropriate car seat angles in both rear-facing and forward-facing seats. Make sure that you have the car parked on a level spot while installing to make sure the level indicators work successfully. Proper installation of the car seat enhances the safety of your child and guarantees that all safety features will be employed efficiently when needed.

The SuperCinch Latch Tightener makes installation of your car seat easier and more accurate-creating confidence in you, the parent, as you provide scientific approved safety for your precious cargo just as it implies-in a super cinch.

Chicco Nextfit adjusts with your child including an infant insert for tiny babies and all the adjustments needed to make this convertible car seat the only one that you will need to buy all the way through pre-school age.

Diono Radian RXT All-In-One Convertible Car Seat, Black Cobalt

Triplets? No problem with the Diono Radian RXT. This convertible car seat is one of the narrowest on the market. Measuring 17 inches' wide-enabling most cars to fit 3 of these ultra-slimming convertible seats side by side.

Radian RXT features the only full steel frame creating a foundation of strength and safety. The RXT folds completely flat for travel like a back-pack weighing in at only 26 pounds. It is FAA certified with positive reviews of operating wonderfully in the airport and on the airplane. Supplying comfort and safety no matter what your mode of travel may be.

Another long lasting feature of this all-in-one convertible car seat is the rating of 10 years of life. Beginning with the rear-facing position, the RXT car seat will comfortably cradle a child weighing 5 to 45 pounds. The forward-facing positioned seat will fit children from 20 to 80 pounds. The convertible seat will then convert to a booster seat fitting children weighing up to 120 pounds. Now that's what you call – an All-In-One convertible car seat.

The feature of -no pedestal-enables your child to slide into the forward - facing seat easier. Also without the pedestal the car seat sits lower, creating more safety naturally by lowering your child's center of gravity which exerts less forces on them in an accident.

Diono Radian RXT Convertible not only features safety and long-lasting comfort – but top of the line style. Your child will be riding in style all snuggled up into the new Euro-inspired fashions. And of course the eye-catching varieties of the contemporary colors will accent your car as well. When you and your family can travel in comfort, safety, and style-the highways of adventure may become very alluring and give you and your family the opportunities that will fill up your little one's baby album.
