

Booking Boutiques!

The minute you walk through the doors, you're enveloped by the unique character and upscale designs. This is not your typical chain hotel with whitewashed walls and hard pillows, this is a boutique hotel (a trendsetter's paradise) and it's all about luxury... it's all about you.

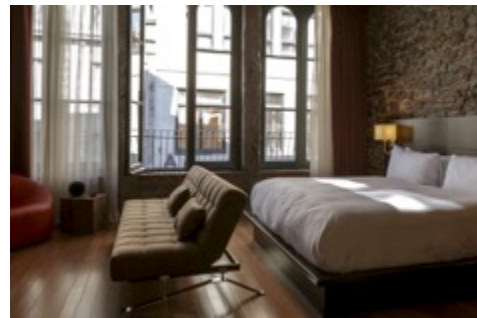

Providing so much more than just a place to stay, boutique hotels provide an enriched holiday. And let's not forget the people who bring it all together, the staff—or should we say your new best friends—know how to meet your every need and make you feel like a local in a brand new city.

From historic settings to newly constructed buildings, boutique hotels offer an exclusive experience where you CAN have it all.

A taste of Europe:

Set in Montreal's old downtown, this historic building offers a European vibe with its stone and brick walls accompanied by high fashion modern décor. Hang out in the lounge with the friendly staff or ask them for advice on exploring the trendy town, you may as well, bikes and iPads are free to borrow.
