Real Wedding Photography

Striking, crisp wedding photography for the couples looking for a photographer brimming with creative energy and passion, with a keen eye for the perfect shot.

Not your ordinary photographer - nothing makes me happier than capturing that split second reaction, smile or kiss - and realising it in a photograph you can cherish forever. My work features brightly coloured, modern, unique shots. (I even do all of the editing myself on the album design wizard, making sure everyone looks perfect before those all-important wedding albums are sent out.)

I don't just do the standard wedding photos. I'm the perfect choice for the couple that don't want a photographer who will blend into the background but interact with your guests, snapping shots and joining in with the joyous spirit of the day. Integrating myself with your friends and family allows me to candidly capture all of the little fun, sweet moments that are the foundations to a great day.

Communication is key - one of the biggest fears people have about their wedding photographer is that they just won't listen. You can be reassured that while I have a unique vision, I'll listen to every instruction you give me. After all, I'm there to capture the day through your eyes.

Want your 4 legged friends to be a part of your special day? Many couples have their pets join in with the ceremony - as an animal lover myself, you can be sure I'll get up-close and friendly to snap only the cutest pictures of your special friends.

Every interaction, every moment with each other is a line in your story, and there is no better way to collate the chapters than in a wedding photo album. Looking back, you won't just see how happy you were - you'll feel it. My shots exude a fun, colourful brilliance that are sure to take you back to that very moment, and make you smile for decades to come.

Destination Wedding Photography

White sand beaches, intimate coves or stunning landscapes - having your wedding in an exotic environment just calls to some people.

As a destination wedding photographer, it's an honour when couples ask me to accompany them to their chosen wedding destination, whether that's at home, or a little further away - especially as I have the travel bug myself! By choosing to take a professional photographer with you, you can be sure that the beauty, tranquillity and uniqueness of your chosen destination will be appropriately captured.

Whether you're getting married barefoot in the sand, in a sun-drenched Italian vineyard, or with a breathtaking iconic skyline as your backdrop, my photography always catches the charm and beauty of your destination with photos that bloom with colour and scenery.

If a destination wedding is for you, check out my photo gallery below to get a feel for how I incorporate the artistry of the scenery, whilst making sure you remain at the forefront of my focus.
